

Planning disrupted

Relevant and supportive national planning

Breakout Session 5

Johan Mettler

former City Manager of Nelson Mandela Bay Municipality, member of SAPI

Introductory issues 1

- Is there broad agreement that national planning instruments (National Development Plan, Integrated Urban Development Framework) sufficiently set broad goals, outcomes?
- What more, if anything, is needed in this regard?

Introductory issues 2

- How successful, or not, are we at implementing national planning instruments?
- What are the macro reasons?
- What are the micro reasons?

Introductory issues 3

- What needs to change at macro level in support of national planning?
- What needs to change at micro level in support of national planning?
- What are the main inhibitors to change?
- How do we address the inhibitors?
- Now what?

Milena Ivkovic

Ir. Milena Ivkovic , Director UPAT Programme ISOCARP,
International Society of City and Regional Planners

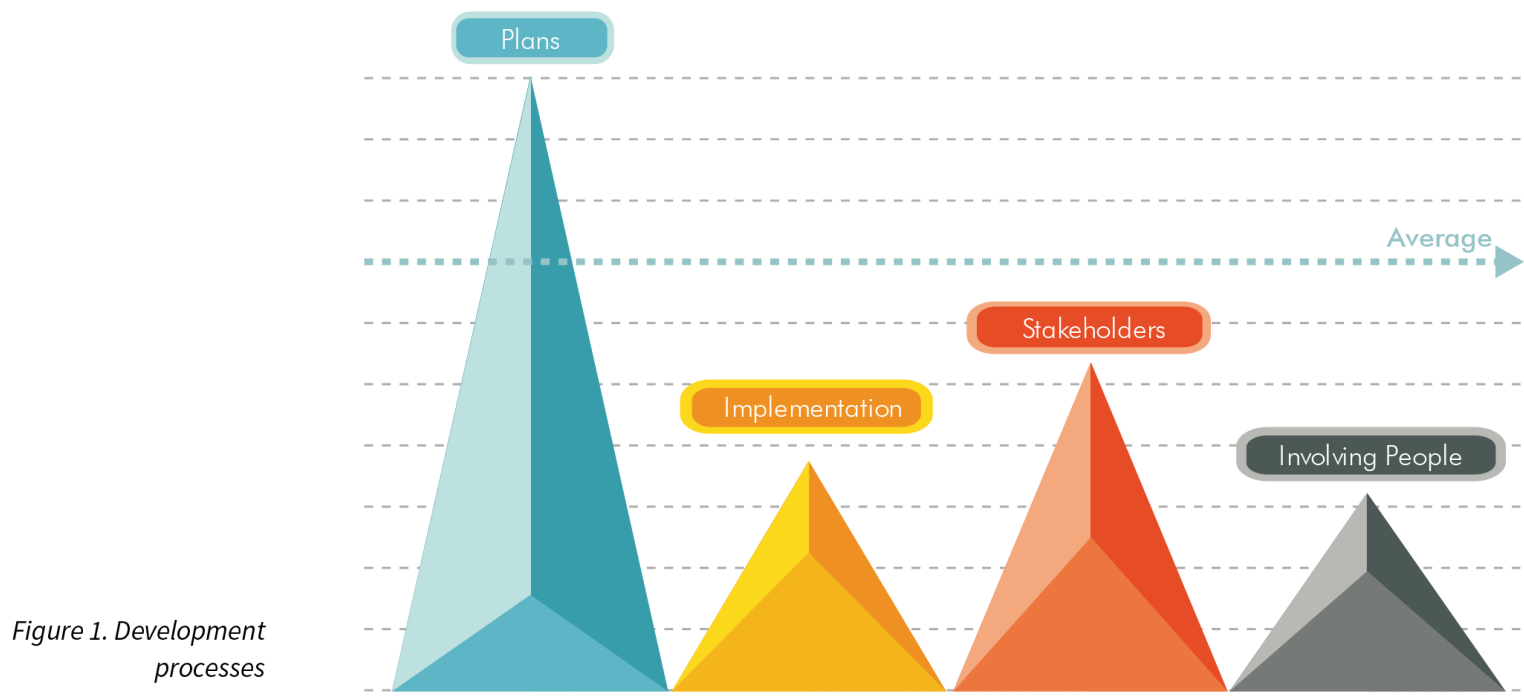

Figure 1. Development processes

2018 ISOCARP UPAT Durban Workshop : simplified conclusions of the planning development process in the municipality, based on the interviews and dialogue with the planning professionals of the municipality

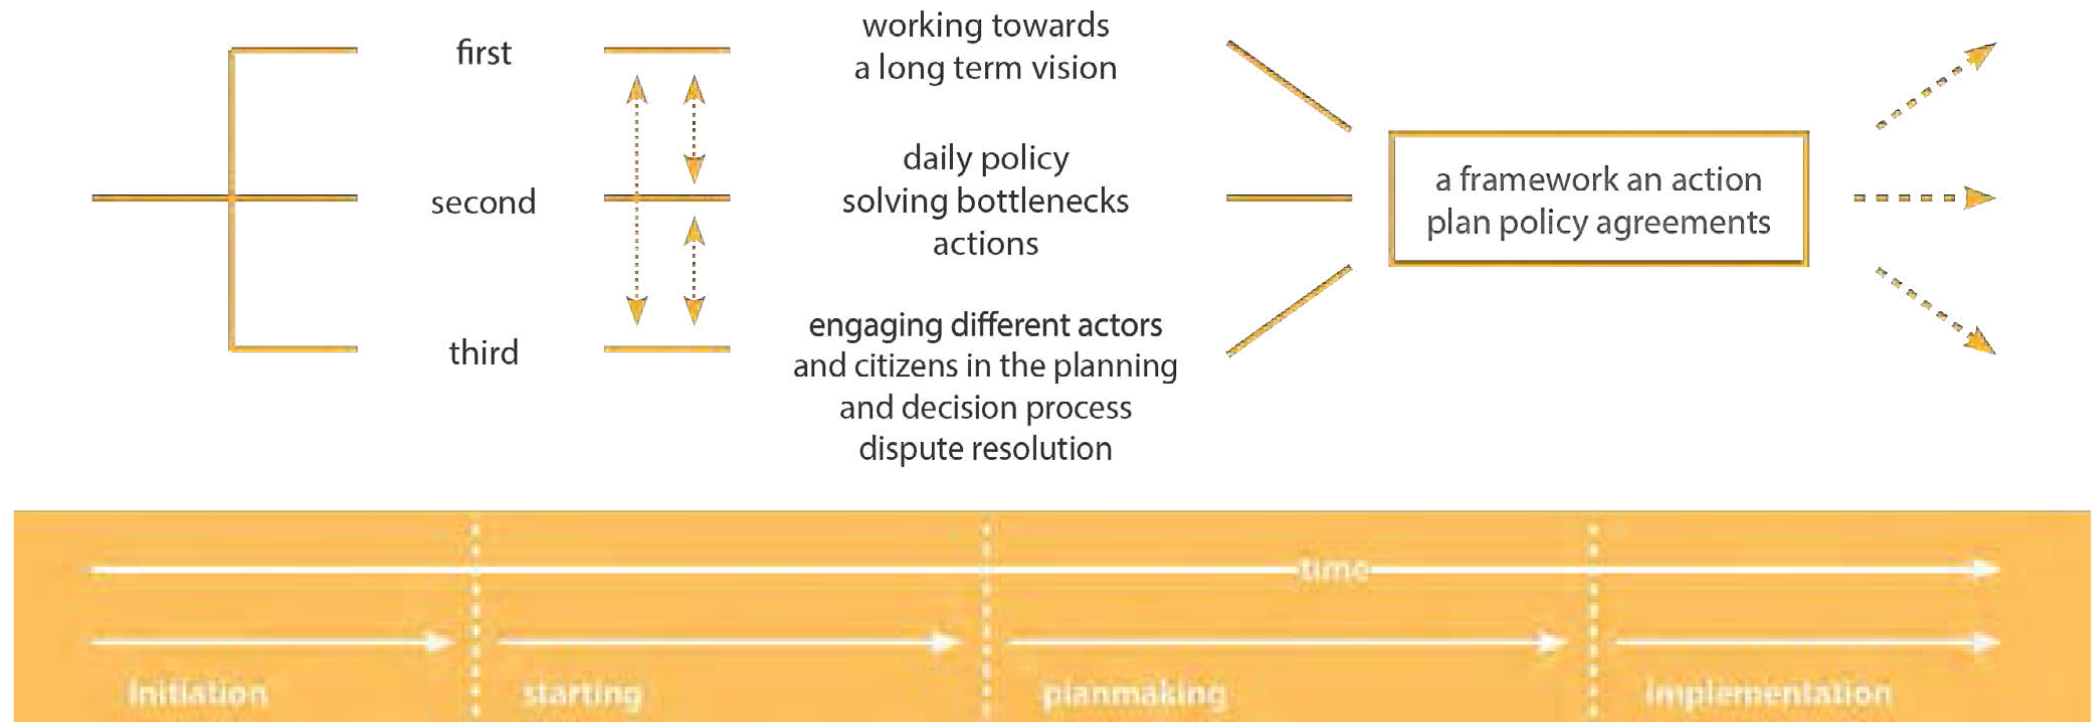

Figure 2. a three-track approach

2018 ISOCARP UPAT Durban Workshop : recommendations of the improved “planning process design: for the municipality